The mine produces metal for the kingdom and increases the capacity of its metal warehouses. Higher mines increase the production and storage capacity of metal. Build different mines to improve their overall effect. My statistics. Includes: Hourly Income: This is the amount of metal extracted in this mine per hour; Kingdom metal storage capacity: the maximum amount of metal that the kingdom can produce. Once it is reached, the mines will stop mining metal until the maximum capacity is increased or you do not spend part of the metal; Total hourly income: This is the amount of metal extracted in the kingdom's mines in a Monster Farm and Monster Marches Monster Farm A new building has appeared in the walls of your kingdom - a monster farm. Here you can grow monsters that bring bonuses to your army. Only the bravest hero will be able to sit in the saddle of a new horse and lead the march in battle! Unlock monster sample To access the Monster Farm, buy an unlocked item from the Gold Store. Once you have it, touch the farm building and click the 'Unlock Monster Farm' button. Hatching monsters. Only adult monsters can go on a march with the hero. The horse must be raised first. To grow monsters, you get an egg and several hatching stones. If you already have eggs in your inventory, they appear in the menu of the monster farm. When you select an egg, it will be possible to use hatching stones to hatch from it. If you have enough hatching stones, if you click OK, you have a new pet! If you already have a chick of this species, you will receive other rewards for using hatching stones. The selection of samples and the sending of marches. Everything is almost ready! Activate the monster now to send him into battle with the hero. Select a sample and click the Select button. During the march, the icon of his monster will be displayed over the portrait of your hero. Click on the March button and enjoy the view! Mythical weapons and bonuses Mythical weapons. Mythical weapons - the crown of the technology of the kingdom. Here you get very useful bonuses from sets of equipment that will always stay with you! Unlock mythical weapons. Simply unlock the building using the Unlocking the mythical weapons item and click the Bonuses button on equipment sets to begin with. Improving the building, you will strengthen the bonuses it gives. After receiving the Unlocking Mythic Weapons item, touch the building and click the 'Block' button! Equipment kit bonuses. After opening the mythical weapons, you will see all possible bonuses of sets and lists of the necessary equipment. For each set, a list of items appears and you can see your progress, mining and production of the necessary equipment. When all the requirements for receiving the kit bonus are met, each device in the list has a green check mark, which means it is included in the kit. If the bonus indicators are green, it means it is now valid. Remember that in order to receive a kit bonus all items from the kit must be in your inventory and are of legendary quality (Lv. 6)! If one of the items in the kit is of insufficient quality or you remove it from your inventory, the equipment kit bonuses will be inactive until you find a new suitable item. When viewing the detailed features of the kit, you will see a list of all the necessary equipment, your progress in assembling the kit, available bonuses and a button for quickly moving to the manufacture of items. Scroll to the end of the kit description page to see all of its items and find out what materials and resources are needed to create them. The kit bonus will be active as well as all the items from it in your inventory. Equipment does not need to be and stack bonuses of different sets without any restrictions. Collect a collection of armor and weapons to bonuses for new conquests, but remember to expand the inventory. This will help you with boxes of tools that you get for progress in the game or buy for loyalty points! How to improve equipment. In mythical weapons you improve the quality of existing equipment. Upgrade to a second to unlock this opportunity. Click the Upgrade button in the building to see what materials are needed to level it up. In the mythical armory you can see the Improve menu, which shows all the equipment and materials needed to improve it. If you select one of the equipment from the list, go to the upgrade screen. It shows all the requirements and benefits you receive in improving the quality level of this item. After fulfilling all the conditions, just click the Improve button and soon an improved item will be at your disposal! In addition, the equipment can be improved from the hero's menu. Go to the hero's profile and touch one of the cells for equipment to attract, remove, or replace an item. On the equipment selection screen, tap the item you want to go to the mythical armory and work on it! Prison. The prison allows you to capture, contain and expel enemy heroes. Upgrade your prison to catch more heroes and shorten the time before they are banished (note that the level of the enemy hero is also affecting this time). There can only be one prison. Grove Grove. You go to the lists of the city overview screen (to the left of the screen, above the armory). Here you can fight monsters to get rare gems, materials, power-ups and other unique items to enhance the power of your kingdom. To enter the lists, tap the building on the city's outline screen. Skirmishes in the dungeons. In every fight on the lists, you have to fight the monster. Touch the monster to attack it with ether. Each hit brings you an item, and killing a monster, you have three chests, one of which can be a valuable item. Mining panel. Each trophy appears briefly when hitting a sample, and then is added to the price strip, moving from side to side with each new prize. Daily free attack. Once a day, all players get one free attack. These free attacks don't accumulate, so don't forget to use them every day! Ether. If you attack the monster, you spend ether. Your air supply is marked at the top of the screen. Air can be received as a reward for various promotions, purchased in an item store or purchased in a gold store as part of special package offers. Theme lists. Theme lists may be available temporarily. To participate in these thematic events, select them on the screen of the On thematic lists you get unique items that are only available during the event. Quarry - a basic Quarry source. The quarry fetches stone for the kingdom and increases the capacity of its stone shops. Higher quarries increase the production and storage capacity of stone. Build several quarries to improve their overall effect. Improve. Statistics. Includes: Hourly income: the amount of stone extracted per hour. Kingdom Stone storage capacity: the maximum amount of stone a kingdom can produce. Once it is reached, the quarries will cease to produce stone until the maximum capacity is increased, or you will not spend any part of the stone. Total hourly income: This is the amount of stone extracted in the quarries of the kingdom in an hour. Resource Storage Resource Storage. Resource storage protects some resources from enemy attacks. Upgrade your resource storage to protect even more resources from enemy attacks. Trading Post Trading Post. With a trading post you send resources to guild members. Improve your trading message to increase resource assistance. Training ground Training Field clac. Training ground to train troops. Upgrade your training field to increase the training force limit at each turn. You also build barracks to increase the overall effectiveness of the training ground. Troop training. To train troops on the training field, select the type of troops and quantity (using the slider), and then click Train. Bonus to learning speed. Training ground gives extra bonuses to the speed of the training! These bonuses increase with the level of the training field. The duration of the training, taking into account bonuses, is calculated as follows: (initial duration) / (100% + bonuses). For example, a 25% bonus to the learning speed takes 2 minutes of the total timer time of 10 minutes. The calculation formula is as follows: (10 minutes) / (100% + 25%) = 10/125% = 8 minutes. The training field detail page does not display the overall bonus for the speed of the workout, but displays the total percentage that shortens the initial training time. Study of the troops. Please note that some types of troops will not become available until after their research. Treasury and University Coeffers. Treasury will help you get extra gold! Invest a certain amount of gold and wait for the deposit to expire. At this point you will receive the amount invested in full, plus the interest that is accrued at the interest rate in gold. Improving the treasury, you increase the interest on your certificate of contribution. In addition, after improvements you invest and take more gold! Remember that the deposit can be withdrawn before the expiry of the term, but in this case you will lose interest. University Build a university to do research for your kingdom. Walls walls. The wall contains traps and provides powerful defenses in battle with enemies. You increase the capacity of the wall by improving it. The capacity of the walls. The capacity of a wall determines the possible number of falls on it. By improving the wall, you build more traps. Watchtower skills. The watchtower a very important building. If you have a watchtower, you will receive reports of traders, reinforcements, attacks and military campaigns U. Watchtower button. When someone approaches the kingdom, a button for an approaching march or scout appears on the city's overview screen. At the same time, a frame appears around the screen and the watchtower itself begins to glow. Watchtower notification priority. Each type of marches tracked by a watchtower has its own color: Green - trade; Blue is reinforcement; Red - attack; Red is a military campaign. Alerts have a color gradation: red is the most important thing, followed by green and then blue. Watchtower push notifications. If something happens when you're offline, you'll receive a push notification. In the watchtower. When you select a watchtower, a viewing screen and all approaching marches appear. When you select a march, more information about that march appears on the watchtower's screen. Improving the watchtower can provide even more detailed information about the upcoming march, including arrival time, troop composition, guild information and player name. Marches. The martian screen can be opened from the Extras. Menu or using the marches key on the rich map. The march page shows all active marches. March page. Depending on the level, the watchtower shows one or more of the features of the march: owner, purpose, and strength. Each campaign will also have one of the following states: participate in the march, returns, attacks, defends, participates in the military campaign, is sent as reinforcements, conducts reconnaissance, camps or pressure gathering. Interaction with the march page. Depending on the state of the march, you may recall, view, transfer or accelerate it. To remember the march, you need to use the item Recall the march. Final Fantasy XV: How do you win the battles How do you get prey from monsters? When attacking a monster, you find different items. Touch the monster to see possible rewards. These are just examples, and they can't match the loot you get after the fight. The chance of dropping certain items of some types of samples is higher than from others. Keep this in mind if you need a specific item or material. OS OS's are spent on a skill development tree. The total number of available Es's can be seen at the top of the tree. If there is an OS that can be spent, the portrait of the hero on the kingdom's outline screen and the OS button on the hero's page will start to glow gold. Skill development boom. On the tree of skills development, you choose which skills to improve the hero. By clicking on a particular skill, you see what it gives. Skills become more powerful when investing in additional OS. On the skill development boom, you see the total number of OS issued and the maximum number for each skill. If the skill has already spent the maximum number of points, it glows Gold. Skills are presented in order from the weakest (top) to the strongest (bottom). The more powerful the skill becomes, the more skill points you need to in the previous one. The branches go from top to bottom, indicating the requirements for each subsequent skill. Combat tags Combat marks. Battle tags allow you to specify and mark targets on an empire map. To unlock tags, purchase specially marked items from the gold store. To use battle tracks, you must be a member of the guild. Each guild can set up to 15 tags. Each guild member can set 2 tags. To set a tag, click the kingdom you want, and then select Highlight Target at the bottom of the pop-up menu. If you haven't unlocked the tag feature yet, a lock icon appears next to the Mark Target button. By clicking the locked button, you will be taken to a gold store. By unlocking battle markers, you mark targets. The label is valid for 30 minutes and then disappears. By clicking on the flagged player, you will see all available information on this tag. Any member of the guild can view it, and the player who set the brand can edit it. Click the text field to write an additional comment about the target. When you mark the target, the Guild - Combat tags screen displays a new item with the name and strength of the target. To go to the battle markers of the empire map, click the Guild button in the bottom navigation bar and select the Battle marks item on the guild's main screen. You view the goals highlighted by other members of the guild by going to the All Goals tab. On the My Goals screen, you'll see the number of goals highlighted and the maximum limit for you and your guild. If you leave the guild after you mark the target, the brand stays with the guild. On this screen, you can edit and update and remove the signatures of goals. The target must remain marked for a while before the mark can be updated or removed. You'll need to wait 15 minutes to update the tag. Delete a tag 5 minutes after setting up. By clicking on the Go To button on the target in the list, you will be taken to the place on the empire map where the target was highlighted. The tag stores only the place where the target was originally highlighted. If the highlighted player changes location, the coordinates will not be updated. The brand placed on the enemy gives you two advantages. First, your entire guild will see the name, location, and power level of your target. Second, only your guild can see the marked target on the world map. The fact that the player is marked indicates nothing else. Your target doesn't know that soon an entire guild will attack her! Combat troops. There are four types of troops: warriors, cavalry, wizards and siege vehicles. They can be sent to attack, strengthen or defend various points on the map of the realm. Warriors. Coping well with cavalry, but easily destroyed Magicians. Cavalry. It handles magicians well, but is easily destroyed by warriors. Mages It handles warriors well, but is easily destroyed by cavalry. Siege vehicles. They cope well with wall traps, but are easily destroyed by Warriors or cavalry. Defense.Wall traps can be built on walls and be the first line of your defenses against enemies. Wall traps do well with warriors, cavalry and wizards, but are easily destroyed by siege vehicles. Hero.In a fight with another player (in PvP), your hero will guide both your troops and traps. Earn skill points for the hero to increase bonuses to attack, defense and health of troops. To increase bonuses, you also make equipment and put it on the hero. Further manufactured equipment can be improved with gemstones. Make sure the hero is with the troops! Otherwise they will not receive his bonuses! Be careful in battle: if all troops die, your hero will be captured. Troop bonuses. In addition to bonuses received by the hero's troops, you also strengthen troops by conducting research at the university or using amplifiers from the store. Explore enhanced attack, defense, and health in the Combat research tree. The Defense research tree offers attack and defense bonuses that mainly work on wall traps. Basic reinforcements. You also use attack and defense amplifiers from the store, but they are temporary in nature, and only one can be used at a time. Fight in PVP mode. Fight with other kingdoms and troops on the empire map, waiting for an attack or independently attacking enemies. Battles in the kingdoms. Attackers can send a mixed army against the defending kingdom, consisting of warriors, cavalry, wizards, siege vehicles and a hero. Use the slider to select the type and number of troops that will go into battle. If you want to send a hero into battle, don't forget to make the right brand! Protectors. The defender defends himself with the help of the hero (if he is in place), as well as all troops and fall into the kingdom. The player who manages to kill, injure or destroy the largest number of troops and traps wins. If the defender has a hospital, then the troops get there, who would otherwise be killed. The troops at the hospital don't need maintenance. The troops in the hospital do not take part in fighting, and their power is not taken into account. Fighting in the wild. The battles in the wilderness are very similar to the battles in the kingdoms. The only difference is that there are no hospitals and wall traps. Intelligence. Explore enemies to become a successful ruler. Explore and use scouts to find enemy troops and pick up the right army. Where's my march? Due to interruptions in the connection between your device and the game servers, troops can sometimes disappear from the map. A march can also be jammed in one place. For example, you sent a march to an alien attack or to a particular site for resources. The attack or gathering ended, but the army never returned; When you try to select this march, you don't see it on the map. In most cases, this problem is resolved very quickly and easily. Close and reopen the application through the task administrator. A A mars will appear where it should be. Victory condition. The player who manages to kill, injure or destroy the largest number of troops and traps wins. Statistics - the sum of the troop amplifiers: Bonus to the attack of the campaign - strengthens the attack of the troops as a military campaign is launched in this kingdom. Attack bonus during the attack on the city - improves the attack of the troops when attacking other kingdoms. Troop Attack Bonus - Your troops do more damage to enemies. Bonus to attack the city on defense - strengthens the attack of troops who defend the kingdom. Bonus to the armor of troops - improves the armor of troops, protecting them from damage. Bonus to armor in attacking the kingdom - strengthens the armor of troops as they attack the kingdom. Bonus to city armor in defense - increases the armor of troops defending the realm. Health Storm Bonus - Increases the health of troops when attacking other kingdoms. Bonus for the health of the troops - increases the health of the troops, increasing the chances of their survival. Kingdom Defender Health Bonus - Increases the health of the troops defending the kingdom. Bonus to health troops when collecting resources - increases troops health when collecting resources from a resource site. The carrying capacity of the troops - determines the amount of resources that the troops of the hero can collect from defeated enemies or sections of resources. Attack of the Kingdom Defenders Bonus - Improves the attack of troops defending the kingdom. Heroes Heroes On the hero page you will find all the information about your hero. In the lower right corner of the screen shows the level of the hero. Below, under the name of the hero, is a swath of the hero's experience. On it are two numbers by a fraction: on the left is the experience gained, and on the right is the experience needed to reach the next level. Strengthening. The Amplification button is a convenient way to see all the features, reinforcements and other improvements of your hero. Please note that only reinforcements are displayed here that the hero himself receives from skills, equipment, and research. General metrics for your account can be found in the Reinforcements section of the profile page. Strengthen the hero. The hero's enhancement button shows all the possible bonuses that the king gives. This is a great opportunity to look at the strengths and weaknesses of the hero. Change your hero. This option allows you to change your character. After unlocking new heroes, the Activate button on the Hero Monument page makes this option available. Where's my hero? If the hero is not in the kingdom, then he fell into the hands of the enemy. When the hero went to jail you have a countdown timer until it can be banned. In addition, the hero can escape from captivity on his own. After the timer has expired, the player who handcuffed the hero will have some time to decide whether he will expel him. As a result, your may not immediately return to the kingdom after liberation. This waiting period will vary depending on the level of the player's exile portal, the skills of his hero and the number of studies conducted. The hero has been captured. If the battle in which your hero participates ends in your crushing defeat, and the level of your citadel is 15 or higher, then this hero can be captured. In this case, the hero disappears from the army and stops restoring OM, and his reinforcements cease to exist. If the main character is captured, changing the characters becomes impossible, so be careful! Reward for the hero. If your hero is captured, you can pay a reward for him. After seeing the scream you suggested, other players may decide to save your hero. If any of them manages to do this, he will be paid the promised amount of gl. If the hero escapes without the help of other players or is released or banished by the player who has captured him, the reward will be lost. However, it will not be refunded to you. Hero detention. If the level of your citadel is less than 20, your hero cannot be banished. Instead, he will be captured for a while. When the term of captivity expires, he will return to you. The freed hero. There are several ways to free heroes. You travel to the kingdom of the invader and save the hero, or delegate this task to other players. The hero who captured him can also let go of the hero. In this case, the hero will return to your kingdom. The reward for saving the hero is paid to the player who manages to save him from captivity (but not to the one who has captured him!). If the player who captured the hero decides not to expel your hero, he will try to escape. The escape will take place after a certain time, which depends on the level of prison and your hero. The higher the level of the hero, the faster he will be able to escape. The expulsion of heroes. If the hero is expelled, his name will appear on the memorial, and you will be presented with a choice: either save him with the help of the rescue stone, or hire a new hero. If you have built a monument to the hero, in the event of redemption he will not lose all the experience gained. Final Fantasy XV: Events Events. Events are visible in Kingdom Overview mode. They provide additional rewards for dedicated actions. Participating in events, you have to fight with other players for trophies on the leaderboard. Don't forget to learn about active events to collect as many rewards as possible! Events are only valid for a certain amount of time. The timer at the top of the event page measures the time until the end of the As long as the event lasts, certain actions will earn you points. These actions are described on the specific event page. Actions for events. The effect of the action is piling up. For example, if you earn 1 point for training 1 fighter, you earn 100 points by completing the training of 100 fighters at once. Once you have enough points for the trophy, you will a letter and a push notification about this performance. Trophies will immediately be among your items. You must start and end actions during the current event to count them. Leaderboard. Each in-game event has its own leaderboard. For most events, the top 100 players are on the leaderboard. They receive different prizes depending on their success. In some cases, the leaderboard will consist of 100 players who will be the first to perform the tasks set during the event. As a rule, the leaderboards reflect the personal successes of individual players, but the names of the best guilds are included in the lists based on the events of the guild or the empire. To open the leaderboard, click the Extras menu button (bottom right) and the Leaderboard button. Leaderboard categories. Leaderboards include the best players and guilds in the realm. Find out what place your guild takes in the time it takes to capture the crystal, power, destroyed armies, ratio of killed to lost, destroyed kingdoms, victories in battles, ratio of victories in battles to defeats, victories in wars, to defeats captured heroes, exiled heroes, received rewards, destroyed traps, the number of guild aid cases, the indicator of guild aid collected and resources collected. Troop losses only concern the player who leads the attack or defense. I didn't get any points for the event. Pay attention to the presence of a timer for new events. If the event is currently inactive, no action will bring you points. If you're sure that the event is currently active and you're performing all the necessary actions, but the points still aren't displayed in the account, try closing the application through the task administrator and reopening it. The connection to the server is updated, and the number of points displayed on the screen re-corresponds to reality. I don't see any monsters on the world map. Samples appear randomly on the world map, so they can't always be found in the same place. Plus, all the players in the realm see them, so try to get to the desired target as soon as possible before someone else intercepts it! How to participate in campaign events? To participate in campaign events, you must collect special items through a series of campaign-related events. Ways to earn points in campaign events can be very different. For example: an attack on monsters, collecting prey from sites, passing other events. You can find out more about scoring points in a particular event by looking at the list of events. Special items received for campaign events are sent directly to the campaign event points account and not to the stock. To find out how many tokens you've already earned, go to the event list and see the campaign event progressor. What are empire bosses? Empire bosses are incredibly large monsters, which are much harder to beat than ordinary monsters. To beat it will be necessary to combine the efforts of the entire guild. To defeat the boss of the empire, he must do very great damage. If, after a fight with such a monster, you see 0.00% of the damage you've done in the report, lose your heart! You did everything you could. The boss has too much health, so that even the strongest hero alone can cause him significant damage. Therefore, it is very important to gather all your guild in battle with the boss and work in a team with other players in the realm! Boss trophies after defeating him quickly disappear. Therefore, don't waste time for nothing, so you get a share of the loot Events Battle of Empires Description. Events Battle of Empires is a special contest in which a connection is formed between the rich. Thanks to this connection, players can teleport from one empire to another and fight each other for the top prize! While the Battle of Empires is underway, you can open the event page of the empire: tap the Events button on the right side of the city's overview screen. Follow these steps to get points! Travel between the rich. When during one event an empire calls another to fight, a connection is made between them for the entire time of the event of the rich. To fight the enemy empire while the connection is ongoing and the event is underway, participants can go to the enemy realms using the unique teleport of the Battle of the Realms! Conquering other realms. By teleporting into the enemy realm using the teleport of the battle of empires, you stay there until the end of the invasion. The remaining invasion time appears at the top of the gain page on the city's outline screen. When the invasion timer expires, you will be teleported to any place in your own realm. Units that are not in Crystal or in the camp will immediately return to your kingdom. Teleporting into an enemy realm does not help the invasion timer. To update the timer, you must return to your realm and then teleport to another empire. Enemy Empires. After the event begins, enemies will begin to appear in your realm: they will attack even if you don't start to touch their empire! All players of enemy realms will turn red and change their appearance. Beware of players from hostile realms: they probably came up with something unkind! The enemy kingdom number is shown to the left of his name. The rich number indicates the realm of where the intruder came from. Rules for a special event. After the event Battle of Empires ends, the walls of empires are restored and the connection between them disappears. Please note that the end time of the invasion of the player's empire can coincide with the end time of the Battle of the Empires event. In this case, enemy players will be present in your empire even after the end of the event. They will stay in it until their time of invasion has passed. After that, they are automatically moved to own empire. Captured heroes. Captured heroes remain in the prison of the player who captured them, even if you are teleported home at the end of the time of the invasion of the empire. This means that liberated or rescued heroes must march to your city from the most hostile realm - and this is a long and dangerous journey! Try to teleport the hero back home, otherwise you'll have to wait a long time for his return to his homeland. Leaderboard of the best players. Individual players from each of the participating realms who score the most points in the Battle of Empires event will receive special trophies on the leaderboard. Table of the best guilds of the events of the realm. The guild that will score the most points in the event receives trophies on the leaderboard. If you are a member of the guild of an enemy realm, your points will be added to the total account of the current guild, and your native region will receive a bonus for your actions! Titan possessions Enter the Domain of the Titan! Titanium is one of the most important locations in Eos. Power over him means power all over the world. Anyone who dares to enter the domain of Titan and pass their tests will get great rewards. When the Titan is awakened and left without protection, you can use the Titan teleport to transfer to its belongings and take part in the battle for control of it. The time allocated for this will show the consent of the state: when it expires, you will be traced back to your own realm. The surroundings. The Titan's property is a vast swampy wasteland. The troops move very slowly along the marshes, so in the preparation it is worth considering this circumstance. Those who will be able to defeat the monsters that live here will find in their burrows a very rich prey! Conquest of the Titan. Sometimes the Titan wakes up and becomes a threat to all of Eos. If this happens, send your troops to his possessions to seize control of him for the good of all the rich! The player who can hold Titan the longest in all trials will become the new supreme emperor and retain this title until the next awakening. The fight for the Titan. When the Titan is not protected, any player held by the Titan can catch it. Do everything in your power to overthrow the current owner of Titan and take his place until the battle is over. Whole guilds take part in the battle for the title of supreme emperor, so unite and act together! Titan titles. The High Emperor of Eos is given the right to grant useful titles to the kingdoms of his choice, and also receives a personal title with bonus features. These titles also work outside titan's domain! If there is an unsolicited gift, the timer for the next gift will not start. Push notifications about the gifts of the moon. If you've received a gift from the moon and you're not in the game, a push notification will remind you to pick it up! Enter the game and grab the gift to start the countdown to the next one! Where do you find the gifts of the moon? Items received as gifts from the moon are located on the Items screen in the bottom navigation bar. Please note that these items fall into different sections of the Items depending on their nature or function. Teleportation Teleportation. Each new player gets 1 improved teleport. So the Allies will be able to accommodate nearby. How do you use the improved teleport? To use the enhanced teleport on the empire map, switch first move to the empire map by clicking the button in the lower-left corner. Then select the destination of the move. You move the kingdom to almost every part of the empire map to will. Places that do not move you to water, sources, monsters, other kingdoms, and the center of the crystal, located in the middle of the map. Click where you want to teleport. When you click on such a place, a menu appears. It has two options: Teleport and Occupy. Select Teleport and use the enhanced teleport. Immediately after using the teleport, your kingdom will appear in a new area. Other teleporters work in a similar way. Just open the empire map, select a destination, and teleport. Random teleportation is the only teleport for which you do not have to choose a target (it teleports the selected kingdom to any place). It can be used directly from the inventory available on the item page. Final Fantasy XV: Correct game settings blocked users List of blocked users. The Blocked Users button is at the bottom of the Advanced menu. Manages the blocked user list. Block users. You block chat users. To do this, tap their message and then their name, and then press the lock button. The user can also be blocked via his profile. After blocking, the player cannot leave comments, send email, and see comments in the chat, and the player's header is not visible. The user you block will remain blocked, even if you change your name, empire, or create a new account. Unlocking. The blocked user list can be found and changed in the Extra menu. If you unblock the player, he can send you emails, comments, and instant messages again. Fix for rewards What is it? To access this feature, click Fix for rewards on the Advanced Menu tab. Fix for rewards allows players to improve the game's translation system: correct errors, slang and chat language. It can for example snake words and abbreviations (lol = laugh, mod = moderator), as well as typos (nzaad = back). Sometimes there are no mistakes. In this case, simply enter the same word. After each successful transfer, items are credited to your account. How does it work? Every time a new word appears that developers can't translate, it's placed in the Fix for rewards section, so players try to define it. It can be a single word or a sentence with a context that will help you create a more accurate translation. Correction. First, these words and phrases will fall into the correction section. Enter the correct version of the requested word or phrase. Authors of the most successful corrections receive the promised reward. Remember that the answer should be detailed and there should be no grammatical errors. If your language has diacritics, use them. Then some of the suggested options fall into the selection section. Select. Another way to translate is to select the right words from which other players used to determine the current word. Synonyms or similar sentences can often differ only slightly, for example a comma or a letter. Choose the most correct, in your opinion, option. Then the choice of the best options is made, and their authors receive a reward. Only 5 operations can be offered every 8 hours, so make sure you your prices! Recital. If your offer is rejected, you will not receive any rewards for any of the sections. Most likely, in your version there was an inaccuracy or it didn't fit. Remember that developers pay attention to punctuation, apostrophes (not doing it is correct, and not is not) and diacritics (in French, Spanish and other languages). Condition. The status of your applications can be checked on the Status tab. If the application is pending, the decision to accept or reject it can take up to 2 days. The moon will automatically notify you by email when this status changes. Push notifications Push notifications. Push notifications are in the Extra menu. Push notification settings. Final Fantasy XV: Newbie questions How to teleport to another place? To move the kingdom to another place, you need an improved teleport. Click the in the lower left corner of the to go to the empire map and see your kingdom. On the map, find the area you want to teleport to and click on it. A pop-up window appears with the coordinates and a proposal to create, occupy, or teleport a site there. Click Teleport. Another pop-up window will appear to confirm the use of the enhanced teleport. If you have such an item in your inventory, move your kingdom automatically by clicking the Apply button to a new place. If you don't have teleports, the Buy and Use button is on it. By clicking on it, you get an enhanced teleport for loyalty points and activate it. When you create an account, you will automatically receive such an item. In the future, they may be purchased from the guild shop or received as a reward for participating in the event. How to turn push notifications on or off? Push notification settings can be found in the additional section. Push Notifications menu. In this menu you choose one of three settings for different types of notifications: Off, Text, Text with Sound. This way you decide which notifications to pay attention to first. The ability to send push notifications must be enabled in the device settings for the Final Fantasy XV: Empire application, otherwise you won't even receive the most important notifications included in the game's settings themselves. Remember that some types of push notifications can't be turned off from the application, but this can be done in the device settings. By turning off notifications for the entire application, you won't receive them at all. It should be noted that if you have disabled all notifications and refuse to receive important messages (for example, about an attack on the kingdom), the developers are not responsible for the outcome of the battle, which you have learned nothing about. How does the treasury work? Having invested gold in the treasury, you get a percentage of the total amount of gold stored in storage. The amount of profit depends on the level of the treasury. Interest on the amount invested is calculated after a certain period of time. It is worth remembering that if you have to withdraw a contribution from the Treasury before interest is accrued, you will only receive back the amount you invested in the first instance and that the interest from this deposit will be lost. I have gold, but I can't find it. Sometimes gold obtained from chests or guild gifts is sent to the inventory, rather than added to the total balance. Make sure you have items&gt; my items&gt; resources and see if your gold is there. Why is my screening kingdom gone? When your kingdom barrier is activated or when the action expires, you will receive a corresponding message in the email. If your kingdom screening has been premature, the explained the events that led to their expiration. Your Kingdom Shield will be cancelled if you attack another player, conduct reconnaissance, send reinforcements to another member of the start a military campaign or join a military campaign. The active screening of the kingdom does not extend beyond your kingdom and does not protect troops beyond its borders. This means you have to be careful when sending your troops to collect resources or occupy parts of the empire, as other players in your realm can still attack you! Why has my kingdom been teleported to another place? If you haven't been active in the game long enough, your kingdom may be moved to make room for more active players. Try logging into the game more often to stay active and avoid teleportation! Final Fantasy XV: Account How do you change your email address? The email address associated with your Epic Action account can be changed by following the following steps: Sign in to Final Fantasy XV: Empire with your Epic Action account; Select Advanced Menu in the lower-right corner of the screen. Select Accounts and Devices. Select Change email address. Enter your new email address and click Submit. A confirmation email will be sent to the new address. Find the confirmation letter in the mail and follow the steps in it to confirm the change of address. Follow these steps and your email address will be changed! How to change the player's name? The player's name appears under the icon of your kingdom on the empire map. To change a player's name, you'll need a special item to change the player's name. Go to Inventory - My Articles - Special and click Use. When you create an account, you will automatically receive such an item. In the future, they may be purchased from the guild shop or received as a reward for participating in the event. How do you change the hero's name? To change the hero's name, you need a special item to rename the hero. Go to Inventory - My Articles - Special and click Use. When you create an account, you will automatically receive such an item. In the future, they may be purchased from the guild shop or received as a reward for participating in the event. How do you change the password? To change the password: Close the game completely; Restart the Final Fantasy XV: Empire application; Click Don't Remember Password? under the fields enter the email address and password on the login screen. An email with a link will be sent to the email address associated with your account. Follow the instructions in the letter to change the password. If you don't see this message, check the spam folder to make sure you don't miss the message. How do you enter the game? In? another device? You log in with an existing account on any device, but to do that, you'll need to go through training when Final Fantasy XV: Empire launches on this device for the first time. To use the previously created account on a new device, follow these steps: Start the Final Fantasy XV: Empire app; Continue the workout until you have the ability to press the Extra menu button at the bottom of the screen; On the Tools menu, click the Accounts and Devices icon. A menu with two options appears: Create an account and Sign in. Select the Sign in button. The game will warn you that at the same time lose your unused game progress. Click OK; Enter your Epic Action account's email address and password, and then click Sign in. The game will once again warn you of the loss of unseeded game progress. Click Sign in again. With a pop-up window, you won't sign in until you've confirmed your email address. An email is automatically sent to your account's email address. Find this letter and click on the link to confirm it. If you don't see this letter in your inbox, wait a few minutes and don't forget to check the spam folder in case you're having problems with delivery. After you confirm the email address, click the Try Again button to complete the login. You now use your Epic Action account on this device. If you play and read email on the same device, the email verification pop-up window with the Try Again button can be closed when you switch between the game and the email client. In this case, after you confirm the email address, you must repeat steps 3-7 to log in. Final Fantasy XV: In-Game Shopping Score.In the Store section, select the item you're interested in, and then click Buy. The item will be available to you immediately after purchase. Tap the Available button below the item's image to use it. If you don't have enough gold, a pop-up window will appear asking you to buy more. Some items are inherently such that they cannot be used on the Stock tab. An example is the accelerator - You must specify the object to which it is applied. Gold. Gold is required to buy items. Gold can be obtained for completing tasks, special offers, participation in events, as well as buying for real money (in-app purchases). Open the purchase menu by tapping the gold icon in the upper-right corner of the screen. Loyalty. Some items can be purchased for loyalty, not for gold. Loyalty can be obtained for active participation in the life of the guild! Complete the guild's tasks, help other guild members, attack monsters, and receive various trophies from events to earn loyalty. Open a guild shop on the item page to come out of your loyalty. I didn't receive the goods i bought in the store. Orders are usually delivered immediately, but in very rare cases this may take some time. If such a delay occurs, it means that your order is still You don't have to buy the product again: it will appear in your account soon! If you still haven't received a purchase made in the iTunes Store more than 24 hours ago, contact iTunes Support. All payments for in-game purchases are processed by Apple. If you still haven't received a purchase made more than 24 hours ago at Amazon ARP Store, please contact Amazon Support. All in-game purchase payments are processed by Amazon. If you made a purchase through Google and did not receive your order within 24 hours, contact customer service and provide the transaction ID (it looks approximately as follows: GPA.1234-5678-9012-3456). Support also needs the date and time of purchase. I bought the kit for sale. Where to look for purchases? All in-game items you have obtained can be found in the Items - My Items and/or Armyory section. If you've used the item but the expected changes don't occur, try closing the application through the task administrator and reopening it. The connection to the server is updated and the image on your screen re-matches reality if the game session is delayed. Final Fantasy XV: Bugs in the game I received no mention of the attack. If the enemy is within a radius of one or two parts of your kingdom, then between sending the offensive march and its arrival, too little time passes for you to get a notification about it. This can be avoided if you place the kingdom next to the possessions of other members of your guild. So the enemy will not be able to teleport close to you and surprise you. Moreover, it will not be wrong to defend the kingdom with a screen when you leave the game. The game works with delays. Try the following: Restart the device; Switch to a stable Wi-Fi connection; Update the application to the latest version; Remove the game and reinstall it; Start the game on another device or operating system. Problem-solving. If the problem isn't resolved by other methods, try the following: Update the operating system on your device to the latest version. Don't forget to check regularly for updates; Free up space in the device's memory: For example, remove large applications you don't use; Clear the cache. Instructions on how to do this can be found in your phone's settings. Author of the article: Nadezhda D. D.
